We support the social engagement of immigrants.

We offer advising, further education, and networking. You can apply for financial aid for projects that promote integration through the House of Resources Dresden+ micro-project fund.

Additionally, we loan out technology for events and help you look for appropriate venues.

The House of Resources Dresden+ provides everything cost-free and serves engaged people in Dresden and the districts of Meißen, Mittelsachsen, as well as the Sächsische Schweiz / Osterzgebirge.

Participation and empowerment are important to us in all of our activities, because we believe this is the only way that social engagement can have a lasting effect.

The House of Resources Dresden+ offers free advising and further education on numerous subjects relating to social engagement.

Topics of the advising and further education include:

- Founding and leading an organization
- Opportunities for funding and submitting applications
- Financial administration
- The development of concepts and projects
- Public relations
- Quality control and development

If needed, we also offer individual training for project groups and organizations or help organizations in their quality-development process.

ADVISING

A good network strengthens engagement and raises visibility.

Our goal is to strategically bring together immigrant organizations and other people active in the area of integration.

We provide contact with other engaged people, organizations, as well as cultural and educational institutions. We support an open exchange with decision makers in politics, administration, and finances.

We help immigrants create networks and offer event and networking formats as needed – not just in Dresden but also in the surrounding areas.

NETWORKING

FUNDING

Financial resources are needed in order to make project ideas a reality.

It is often especially difficult for new immigrant organizations to finance projects. The House of Resources Dresden+ micro-project fund offers a uncomplicated way to support projects dedicated to integration. The maximum sum is 2000 euros per project. One-day events can be funded up to 500 euros. There are multiple application deadlines per year. We will gladly help you from the application to accounting! You will find current information about funding and deadline on our website.

LENDING

You are planning an event and need technological support or a space?

You can borrow event technology and moderation material for free from the House of Resources Dresden+ or from our partners in Pirna, Freiberg, and Nünchritz. We lend out projectors, bulletin boards as well as sound and lighting technology. You can also use our space for meetings of your organization rent-free. This service is available to all organizations advised, helped, and supported by the House of Resources Dresden+.
